Dear Friend:

I am writing to invite you to the Seventeenth Annual Memorial Lecture commemorating the passing of my late beloved mother, Ruth B. Wildes, z"l conducted by Manhattan Jewish Experience, the outreach organization established in her memory by my brother, Rabbi Mark Wildes. On this occasion we will be addressed by

CHIEF RABBI LORD JONATHAN SACKS

speaking on:

JEWISH IDENTITY IN AN AGE OF MULTICULTURISM: Reconciling Jewish Pride & Closeness with Diversity & Pluralism

Rabbi Sacks, who has served as Chief Rabbi of the United Kingdom since September 1991, is the sixth incumbent since the role was formalized in 1845. Among the 14 honorary degrees which he holds is a Doctor of Divinity degree conferred on him by the Archbishop of Canterbury.

The Memorial Lecture will take place at:

Manhattan Jewish Experience
The Jewish Center
131 West 86th Street
(between Columbus and Amsterdam Avenues in Manhattan)
Saturday, December 1, 2012 at 7:30 p.m.

Admission to the lecture is $20.00.

Registration is required in advance at www.jewishexperience.org

Our family is humbled by the succession of distinguished speakers who have addressed our mother's Memorial Lecture, a true tribute to her special character and legacy.

Very truly yours,

MICHAEL J. WILDES

PS: There will be a special private meeting with a smaller group of MJE supporters and board members from 6:45 p.m. to 7:30 p.m. To join this group, call 917-841-8870.
